BeoSound 3000 is the former Beocenter 2300 (first introduced in 199) but with a whole host of new electronics, features and look including a larger metal CD 'cover' and N.MUSIC. The new styling was released to the UK market in September, 2001.

BeoSound 3000 CD/Tuner - Bang & Olufsen

Beomaster 3300 was fitted with an FM, LW, MW radio where five radio stations could be preset, and Datalink was standard throughout the whole of the system so that components could ' talk to each other. ' Because of its slight quirkiness, no one missed it when it was withdrawn from sale and replaced by Beomaster 3500 and 4500.

BeoMaster 3300 - PUBLIQ

Beomaster 1600M was an updated version of the Beomaster 1400. It delivered 2 x 15W and had an FM, LW, MW and 2 SW tuner incorporated. An apparent Henning Moldenhawer hi-fi creation - one of the last few that he designed for Bang & Olufsen - Beomaster 1600M was based upon the Beomaster 900 with similarly-placed features situated in familiar places.

BeoMaster 1600 K/M (1970) - PUBLIQ

(1971-1973) MW/LW/2xSW/FM stereo receiver, 2x15W. Type numbers: 2113, 2114, 2115. Description. An updated version of Beomaster 1400. Again a most unusual design for a Beomaster, taking many styling cues from the Beovision range of the day, such as the black plastic front panel and controls, clear black on white markings, large buttons, bright trim surround and black rear vent grille. Text ...

Beomaster 3000 - Catawiki

(1974-1978) MW/LW/FM stereo receiver. 2x40W. Type number: 2801. Description. An all new 40W model. The figures suggest a similar level of output to the Beomaster 3000 types, but in fact the new design packed an even bigger punch. This is because of a new output stage design based upon complementary NPN/PNP Darlington transistors (similar to those first seen in the Beomaster 901, only ...

Beomaster 2000 - Bang & Olufsen

The Beomaster 901, styled to look discreetly expensive and elegant, was just what was needed. In some ways it looked like a smaller, simpler Beomaster 3000, a clever trick indeed. The Beomaster covered the FM, MW and LW bands, offered 2x20W of output power and could be used with a turntable and a tape recorder.

B&O - Beomaster 3000 - Stereo receiver - Catawiki

With a slightly quirky styling to the Beosystem 3300 components, Beomaster 3300 and its other family members were never too popular with the general public who ensured that it went down in the annals of Bang & Olufsen history as one which ' didn ' t look quite right. ' Although it sounded very right - it was based upon the Beomaster 3000 which it replaced - it always stood out a little from ...

From their futuristic audio and hi-fi systems to their elegant television sets and attractive portable models this guide explores the world the small Danish company that has striven to design items that would stand the test of time. As a result, their products are among those rare things where both form and function come together to create something truly magnificent to behold and to listen to. Tim and Nick Jarman take the collector through every model produced by B&O up to the year 2000, as well as providing comprehensive appendices listing which model is compatible with which and giving tips on restoration. Throughout the book are specially produced original color photographs of preserved B&O audio and television equipment, complete with detail views showing every important control and styling feature on each model. An invaluable book for all fans of the brand, whether you are looking for just one special model or are assembling a large collection.
